Welcome to our summer edition of News Reel.

We've had a fantastic start to 2019 at White Acres; the pre-season maintenance and improvements into Pat's Pool have been very well received.

This year's spawning has now gone and the stock ponds are nice and full for the future. We've been busy with our re-stocking programmes, by being self-sufficient in our fish breeding we've been able to stock our own fish back into the lakes – read more on pages 6-7!

Well done to everyone who has taken part in our spring festivals, we've had some tremendous results! Our 2020 festivals are now open for bookings, so don't miss out if you'd like to take part.

If you would like to follow our regular updates please visit our Facebook page or pop to see us in the Tackle Shop – we'd be delighted to give you a tour.

We look forward to seeing you soon.

FISH BREEDING PROGRAMME

In a bid to be self-sufficient the fisheries team have this year continued to bring on their own fish stocks in the hatchery.

This year we kept it simple, we knew that the fresh fish stock in Pat's Pool would be a great opportunity for breeding if we could collect the eggs from that lake.

We had the tanks and filtration ready in March to ensure we were prepared once the fish started spawning. Reports came into the shop that the fish were spawning on the specimen lakes, even though the water temperature was only 13 degrees! The team went straight down to the lake to see that the margins were full of eggs.

Two large clumps of weeds covered in eggs were collected and put straight into the tanks; they had a better chance of survival in there as the water was filtered and heated up to 16 degrees. After a couple of days, we noticed that the eggs on one of the clumps were turning white, so we returned them back into the lake however the other collection looked healthy.

After constant monitoring I thought I saw one fry but wasn't sure, two days after the tanks were full of eyelash sized fry – it's impossible to say how many fry we had but there were definitely several thousand! With careful feeding and regular water changes they all survived and went into fresh stock ponds. It's our intention to make this a regular process so one day we will only stock our own fish back into the lakes.

Clint Elliott, Fisheries Manager

JOIN STEVE INGREY AT NATIONAL FISHING MONTH

As a very experienced and knowledgeable angler, Steve Ingrey will be available throughout the full 4 weeks of National Fishing Month for free tuition from 27th July - 24th August.

Since being introduced to fishing at the age of 4, over the last 50 years Steve has been a member of a number of angling clubs and until moving to White Acres, he was Honorary Secretary of Sawbridgeworth Angling Society in Hertfordshire.

“I have just about covered all aspects of fishing over the years, from pleasure to match to specimen, and always have the odd story or three to tell. Working at White Acres in such great surroundings has enhanced my knowledge further, being part of a great team of like-minded, very knowledgeable and experienced colleagues it would be difficult not to. Also, working at White Acres I have met some of the worlds best match anglers, who have allowed me to pick their brains from time to time.

National Fishing Month is about me giving something back, by introducing everyone and anyone of all ages to fishing. It is a great opportunity to pass on my know-how to enable people to catch a fish in the simplest of ways, whether that be by rod and line or pole. Hopefully, this inspires them to take fishing into their futures as I have.

To book a session with me visit the Fishing Lodge and book a slot, we
